ABSTRACT

In this bibliography, elementary and secondary level teachers will find a variety of teaching materials available on Canada. It is a revision and update of a bibliography published in 1971 (ED 062 219). This edition contains materials published primarily in the 1960s through 1974. One section provides over 500 references to history, social studies, and literature texts; serials; and reference books. They are grouped according to elementary and secondary grade levels. Most are listed alphabetically by author and indicate title, publisher, date, cost, grade level, and include a brief annotation. Another section lists specific teaching aids and audiovisual materials as well as sources from which they may be obtained. These include films, filmstrips, slides, records, multimedia kits, and simulation games. Content of the textbook and audiovisual aids sections covers Canadian history, culture, geography, folk tales, and personal biographies or autobiographies. A third section provides names and addresses of 45 sources of information about Canada, some of which are national and provincial government organizations. (AV)

Introduction to Second Edition

Since the first edition of Teaching Canada was made available in 1971 two thousand copies have been distributed. A continuing demand has indicated that there is a growing interest in teaching about Canada in the United States at the pre-university level. Information about readily available teaching materials remains hard to come by, hence the justification of a revised version of Teaching Canada.

Like its predecessor this edition is a modest bibliography for which no claim of completeness is made. As many as possible trade and other sources of information issued through the spring and summer 1974 have been consulted, but a selective process, sometimes on a quite arbitrary basis, has been used to reduce the number of entries to manageable proportions. However, those interested in obtaining further data can contact directly the sources whose addresses are included. Organizations like Books Canada and the Playwrights Co-op, publications like Books in Canada and Quill and Quire, private industry and federal, provincial and municipal governments are all invaluable resources which can meet specific needs.

In addition to those mentioned in the introduction to the first edition, a number of individuals associated with the New England-Atlantic Provinces-Quebec Center have contributed to the preparation of this volume. Claudia Bunting and Peter Elliott were the principal compilers with the assistance of Marc Boucher, James Harpell and Bruce Rickard. Joan Caron deciphered innumerable note cards and transposed them into typescript. The publication was made possible financially by a grant from the William H. Donner Foundation.

Introduction to the First Edition

This resource bibliography on Canada is designed to make teachers in many fields at both elementary and secondary levels more aware of the variety of teaching materials available on Canada, and also of some of the sources from which they may be obtained. It is the outgrowth of a conference on Canadian Studies held at the University of Maine, Orono, in September, 1969, under the auspices of the New England-Atlantic Provinces-Quebec Center. The Center was established at the University in 1968 to promote regional studies and activities, and has been assisted since 1970 by a grant from the William H. Donner Foundation. One of the Center's continuing projects has been the attempt to broaden the knowledge and understanding of Canada in American educational institutions, especially those of Maine and New England. Discussions with the Maine Council on Canadian Studies, and with other interested individuals and groups, indicated that a survey of teaching materials on Canada would be a useful means of promoting a knowledge of that country.

This bibliography and resource directory was prepared under the direction of two staff members of the New England-Atlantic Provinces-Quebec Center, Professors Alice R. Stewart and William J. McAndrew. Mrs. Sarah Mercer and Mrs. Patricia Guptill were the principal compilers of the material. It is the first in what is planned as a series of Center publications. The staff would like to acknowledge the aid of the many government departments, business firms, and others who have contributed to the compiling of these lists. Special acknowledgement should be made for the assistance of Professors Edward J. Miles and William C. Metcalfe of the University of Vermont Canadian Studies Center, Professors James R. Miller and Edward D. Ives of the University of Maine, the staff of the Johns Hopkins Canadian Studies Center, and the information divisions of the Boston Consulate General and of the Canadian Embassy in Washington. Of great help in the preparation of this bibliography were the official textbook lists published by the various Departments of Education of the Canadian provinces, especially Ontario, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick. Useful material was also found in Books About Canada, published by the Information Division of the Department of External Affairs of Canada, and the Basic Book List for Canadian Schools, published by the Canadian Library Association.

Many of the books and magazines may be obtained from the Fogler Library of the University of Maine, Orono, and the Bangor Public Library.

III. TEACHING AIDS AND AUDIO-VISUAL MATERIALS

III. Teaching Aids and Audio-Visual Materials

Canada provides a rich field for the use of audio-visual materials. In addition to the opportunities for making use of materials and pictures which teachers or students may themselves have from Canadian trips or projects, there are many government and commercial sources of films, filmstrips, slides, artifacts, records, charts and maps, some samples and addresses for which are given below. In addition there are published collections of reproductions and primary source materials, such as the Jackdaw series, which help to bring to life for students the period of subject under discussion. A selected list of available books and magazines on Canadian music, film and art is also included. Some of the phonograph records may be obtained from U. S. record stores, while some prints and slides are available from the National Gallery in Ottawa. The most comprehensive slide holdings are those distributed by the National Film Board whose catalogue should be consulted. Further information on resources available through government channels may be obtained from any Canadian Consulate.

A. PREPARED SOURCE MATERIALS

1. Clarke, Irwin Jackdaws. Jackdaws are folders filled with copies of historical reproductions—documents, newspaper clippings, recordings, tickets, photographs, posters—in fact, anything from the period that can bring the past to life. $3.25 ea.

B. SAMPLES OF AUDIO VISUAL MATERIALS

The following is a select list of samples of the types of films, filmloops, filmstrips, slides, cassettes, records, multi-media kits and simulation games which are currently available to students and teachers of Canada.

1. Films

The best sources of films for loan are the Canadian Consulates in the United States. Several Consulates maintain film libraries which stock films produced by the National Film Board of Canada. Library catalogues may be obtained from the Consulates. Examples of some available films follow.

Canada: Our Northern Neighbor. BFA Educational Media. 19¼ min. Color only, $240. Rental rate, $10. This film gives an overview of Canada by exploring the geography, climate and economic factors that influence the people throughout the provinces and territories of the country. Industries, transportation, minerals and agriculture are described.

Canada: Our Neighbors in the Atlantic Provinces. BFA Educational Media. 18 min. Color only, $200. Rental rate, $10. Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island comprise the Atlantic Provinces of Canada. Traditionally they have made their living from the ocean, because industrial production has been limited in resources like lumber, coal and steel. Now, both government and private industry are doing much to expand industrial growth.

Canada: Our Neighbors in the Industrial Provinces. BFA Educational Media. 16 min. Color only, $195. Rental rate, $10. Southern Quebec and Ontario form the industrial hub of Canada. Just as Montreal, the largest city of Canada, is the anchor point of her railroad systems, Toronto, capital of Ontario, is the heart of international shipping. Hamilton, Ontario's second largest city, provides hydro-electric power and with its 600 industrial plants, produces one-half of Canada's basic steel.

Canada: Our Neighbors in the Prairie Provinces. BFA Educational Media. 19 min. Color only, $230. Rental rate, $10. Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba are the Prairie Provinces of Canada. They have long been one of the world's major wheat producing regions. Another source of wealth is the crude oil found in northern Alberta and potash which is shipped all over the world.

Canada: Our Neighbors in British Columbia. BFA Educational Media. 17 min. Color only, $200. Rental rate, $10. This film describes Canada's gateway to the Pacific and its westernmost province. Natural resources such as lumber, pulp, paper and the petroleum industry create a major source of income. An in-depth study of the major cities, recreation and agricultural regions, and educational facilities is presented.

The Rise and Fall of the Great Lakes. National Film Board of Canada. 16 min. 40 seconds. Color, $200. Rental, $15. Rental distributor: Contemporary / McGraw-Hill. A lesson in Canadian geography, which concludes that, although the Great Lakes have had their ups and downs, nothing has been harder to take than what man has done to them lately. In the film a lone canoeist lives through all the changes of geological history, through Ice Age and flood, only to find himself in the end trapped in a sea of scum.

Struggle for a Border: Canada's Relations with the United States. National Film Board of Canada, Series of 9 films. $2,500. (complete series). $350. each film. Rental rate, $25. each. Rental distributor: Contemporary/McGraw-Hill.

1. New England and New France (1490-1763). 57 minutes, 55 seconds b & w. From the first uneasy contacts to the culminating conflict—the whole struggle of New England and New France, and the economic contest between the St. Lawrence trade system and the Atlantic-Hudson system, is explored.

2. Canada and the American Revolution (1763-1783). 57 min. 15 seconds b & w. The dramatic and fateful pattern of divergence between the ambitions of the American revolutionaries and the interests of the Canadian groups on the St. Lawrence. The flames of hostile rebellion spread northward but Canada resists encroachment.

3. The War of 1812 (1783-1818). 58 min. 11 seconds b & w. The Canadian-British-American struggle for the Ohio Valley, the War of 1812 and its contribution to American and Canadian nationalism and some sardonic looks at the myths of that war.

4. Dangerous Decades (1818-1846) 58 minutes 20 seconds b & w. The contest for the continental interior. American advantages and internal Canadian troubles, the great dispute over the Oregon and Maine boundaries, American anti-monarchism, and a portent of "a transcontinental nation to come".

5. The New Equation: Annexation and Reciprocity (1840-1860) 58 minutes 10 seconds b & w. The "one continent, one nation, one flag" concept had its strong supporters on both sides of the border, but in conflict were strong economic forces. All the ultimate alternatives for Canada—annexationism, continentalism, free trade, economic nationalism—are illumined in dramatic interplay.

6. The Friendly Fifties and the Sinister Sixties (1850-1863). 58 minutes 25 seconds b & w. Here are interwoven several historical continuities in unique and unprecedented fashion the whole complex course of relations between Great Britain, Canada, the North and the South, before, during and after the American Civil War.

7. The Triumphant Union and the Canadian Confederation (1863-1867) 58 minutes 28 seconds b & w. A fascinating study of the great and enduring principles and practices of international relations and the subtle, many-dimensioned geometry of war and peace: Canada and the American Civil War; Canada, Britain, the North and South, and a dangerous diplomatic game.

8. The Border Confirmed: The Treaty of Washington (1867-1871) 58 minutes 30 seconds b & w. The uneasy years after the Canadian Confederation when American attitudes to Canada were qualified and ambiguous. This critical period in Canadian-American relations is examined and the complex diplomacy of the Treaty of Washington brought to life in striking fashion.

9. A Second Transcontinental Nation (1872). 58 minutes 36 seconds b & w. For Canada, the struggle to preserve the border continued. Emerging from the long historical background and confirmed by it, the underlying factors, the great alternatives, the basic equations on which Canada's survival of a nation independent of the United States depend, now stand clear.

Arctic Islands Petroleum Exploration is a game in which groups of students play the role of directors of petroleum exploration companies searching for oil and gas in the Arctic Islands. This game simulates the problems facing these companies: throughout the game the students are forced to make decisions on such problems as the most efficient method of finding a productive field, whether to continue a well-worked area or to wild-cat, what to do when a well catches fire.

Canada Flannelgraph.

Available from: McIntyre Educational Media Ltd. $14.95. Grades 2-8.
This visigraph set has been designed as a basic course in Canadian geography for students from grades 2 to 8. It covers the political and physical divisions of Canada, her major oceans, lakes, rivers, cities, resources and industries. Included in this set are 2 24" x 36" outline maps, 10 large cut-out overlays of physical regions, provinces and territories and over 130 word strips and symbols which identify the important features.

Caucus: Canadian Politics in Action.

Available from: Van Nostrand Rienhold Ltd. $49.95 for each kit. $5.00 for additional pack of 10 party member's handbook. Grades 8-12.
Caucus is a model of the caucus of the governing party in the Canadian parliament. In the caucus the issues of politics and the interrelationships of personalities and regions can be seen.

Hunting Game.

Available from: Gage Educational Publishing Limited. $95.00 for complete unit. This simulation game is not available except as part of this unit. Grades 4-7.

A simulation game in the "Polar and Nain Labrador Eskimos" unit of the "Space, A Study in Human Adaption" social studies project. Through this simulation game students discover the animals the Eskimo hunts, what animals satisfy what needs, the effects of technological advancement, how a harsh environment with few materials limit possibilities and how the trading-post system operates. Also included in this unit is another simulation game, Tool Game.

January 15th, 1910.

Available from: Gage Educational Publishing Limited. $78.00 for complete 8 box kit. $4.00 for replacement kit. Grades 1-5.

January 15th, 1910 is a series of 6 realistic experiences involving typical activities of a Canadian family during a winter day in the year 1910. The 6 experiences are: (1) Getting up in the morning; (2) Breakfast in the big kitchen; (3) Farm chores; (4) Going to town; (5) Saturday night; and (6) Comparing 1910 to the 70's. Through group and individual exercises each pupil is given opportunities to assume different family roles: Grandfather, Grandmother, Father, Mother, Bill (age 15), Susan (age 13), Jimmy (age 10), Tommy and Catherine (twins, age 8). In this multi-media kit, simulation games is but one method used to help children "to feel what it was like to live at another time." All materials needed to develop the project are contained in a kit of 8 boxes.
